

Voluntary separation efforts helped LANL avoid workforce layoffs. Laboratory Director Michael Anastasio announced that the 430 employees who self-selected to leave Los Alamos, coupled with 140 additional employees who left the Lab since September 2007, helped preclude an involuntary reduction of personnel.

Voluntary separation efforts help LANL avoid workforce layoffs